

Product Name

React js Basic Boilerplate

It can be used by copying source code to directory, prior to it node js and npm should be available in the machine.

Installation

Once it is copied in the directory, run command “npm i” to install the dependencies.

Run application

To run the application run the command “npm start”.

Description

This is the sample boilerplate created in react js, to start an application in react js from the scratch. And it has the following basic features.

Common Layout

Navigation, router

Redux implemented

Below Hooks implemented

useState, useEffect, useContext